

A successful resource company requires expertise in all aspects of its matters, whether it is at the initial stages of exploration on a project, moving forward with a resource estimation or assisting in a corporate direction. Fladgate Exploration provides highly qualified people no matter what your needs; from the bush to the boardroom.

Project Evaluation and Generation

Whether it is evaluating a current project, a potential acquisition or a strategic investment, the Fladgate Evaluations team draws on their vast experience in the resource industry to assist in your asset allocation decisions.

- NI 43-101 technical reporting
- targeting from the drill hole to the belt scale
- structural and geochemical interpretation and consultation
- independent and confidential project evaluations

Corporate Management

The principals of Fladgate are experienced in a variety of corporate matters from negotiating contracts, joint venture and option agreements to your securities and exchange filings.

- experienced officers and directors of private and public companies
- Canadian and US securities regulations and filings
- TMX, OTC, AMEX exchange regulations
- joint venture and option agreements
- contract negotiations